Headline:
Often cloudy with rain at times.

Today:
Morning fog patches lifting with perhaps a little brightness for a time. However, a band of rain, accompanied by freshening winds, will arrive in the southwest by lunchtime, reaching all parts by early evening. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
The rain will stall across mid and north Wales, but tend to peter out by the early hours. However more rain will reach Pembrokeshire by the early hours. Windy. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Saturday:
Generally cloudy and windy on Christmas Day, with rain at times, some heavy. Some of this may fall as snow across the higher parts of Snowdonia later in the day. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Rain and perhaps some hill snow on Boxing Day, this clearing to the north. Drier and perhaps brighter on Monday. Cloudy skies and patchy rain on Tuesday.
